A Special Message to Farmers . . .

New Supergrow from Eastern lets you put more money in the bank and less money in the ground.

GREENVILLE-SPARTANBURG AREA farmers and dealers are served from our plant just off I-85 at Greer.

CHARLOTTE AREA: President Francis Willis talks with a customer at our plant on Hwy. 74 near Wingate, N.C.

GREENSBORO AREA customers receive full service from our third plant food plant located at Sophia, N. C.

Only one plant food formulated in North or South Carolina lets you apply exactly the nutrients your crop, field and yield call for — and nothing more. It's SUPERGROW, the prescription plant food that never adds anything you don't need to soil. You can be sure of that because SUPERGROW is based on our in-house computer analysis of your soil and your need.

If you've known us up to now mainly as distribution experts, SUPERGROW will change that. You'll look to us from now on as plant food specialists who provide you with the exact formula — out of 160,000 possibilities — that makes every crop a money crop!

These Steps Make Every Plant Food Penny Pay Off:

- 1 Using one of our four-wheel-drive vehicles equipped for automated soil sampling, trained personnel takes soil samples for independent laboratory analysis.
- 2 The on-site computer at our nearest plant uses this analysis to select from 160,000 possibilities the one nutrient combination that gives you only what you need.
- 3 Automated controls at each location precisely meter out those nutrients for the plant food "prescription" that feeds your crop with no waste.
- 4 This means you spend money only for the plant food you need for the yield you want — never for nutrients already present — and you bank the rest.

TWO MEN YOU CAN CALL ON to begin your relationship with our Plant Food Division are Executive Vice President/Sales Harold Segars (left) and President Francis Willis (right).

For the fourth consecutive year, Clemson's football programs received a national award from the College Sports Information Directors of America. The 1975, 1976, and 1977 publications were tabbed among the top five in America by a panel of experts. Last year, Clemson finished second to Notre Dame, the first-place winner the last two years.

Next to the occurrence of rain in Indianapolis in the summer time, a Clemson victory over Virginia used to be as predictable an event as one could find. In looking at past games one will find that the Cavaliers have never beaten Clemson in 18 meetings. But in 1979 Clemson fans have become very concerned about this game. The Tigers will have to be at their best if they want to make the major spectacle of this year's Homecoming spectacular a success.

Virginia has looked solid, if not awesome this season, a tribute to fourth-year coach Dick Bestwick. The Wahoo mentor inherited a program that has had only one winning season (1968) since 1952, and has made Virginia a contender.

The development of young, spirited players through his guidance and tireless recruiting efforts have paid off for Bestwick. Greg Taylor and Tommy Vigorito are two running backs who have benefitted by the Virginia coach's work. Taylor has made remarkable strides this year to average nearly seven yards per carry. He is one of the top rushers and scorers in the ACC.

Vigorito, who along with Taylor comprise one of the top junior running back tandems in the South, has averaged nearly eight yards per attempt. He is capable of breaking for a score from any distance, as is evidenced by his long carry of 81 yards for a touchdown this season. Taylor and Vigorito are the major reasons Virginia has already scored more points this year in four games than it took them to tally in the first eight games of 1978.

The Virginia air attack is equally potent. Todd Kirtley is the Virginia quarterback. He has completed nearly 55 percent of his passes this season, his second at Charlottesville. His favorite targets are tight end Mike Newhall, a pro prospect at 6-3, 240, and Ted Marchibroda, the son of the Baltimore Colts' head coach.

The Virginia defense has three all-star candidates, one at each section of the defensive alignment. Tony Blount is a senior all-conference candidate at safety. The three-year letterman has been slowed by injuries the last two seasons, but he is off to a great start in 1979.

The other two defensive standouts are only sophomores, giving Bestwick a nucleus to build his stingy unit around for two more years. Stuart Anderson is one of the finest young linemen in the nation. He was twice named ACC Rookie-of-the-Week last year, and raised some eyebrows in Raleigh three weeks ago when he made 24 tackles, three for negative yardage, against N. C. State.

Sophomore linebacker Bryan Holoman is Virginia's leading tackler. The sturdy performer was the runnerup for ACC Rookie-of-the-Year honors last season. He made an incredible 26 stops against N. C. State in the 1978 game.

Clemson fans are hoping Anderson and Holoman are making a lot of tackles this afternoon, because that will mean the Tigers' ball-control offense is in high gear. Two weeks ago the Tigers gained 306 yards on the ground against Georgia in Clemson's 12-7 win, a score that was not indicative of the Tigs' domination of the game.

Marvin Sims, Tracy Perry and Lester Brown were the pigskin toters for Danny Ford's improved club. Sims had the finest day of his career, rushing for 146 yards on 25 attempts. It was the most yards gained by a Clemson fullback since Ken Callicut gained 197 yards against South Carolina in 1974. At times he resembled the rampaging University of Colorado Buffalo as three Bulldogs held on for life. Ironically, Sims picked the best day of his career to end a personal streak. The Phenix City, AL native had gone 169 straight carries without a run for minus yardage until his fifth carry against Georgia. Clemson fans will forgive him.

Perry had his finest day of the year in gaining 68 yards in 11 carries, giving the Tiger fullbacks 214 yards for the afternoon's work. And of course Brown was his steady self, gaining 81 yards and scoring Clemson's only touchdown. The Myrtle Beach, SC native needs only 160 yards to reach the 2,000-yard mark in his career, and needs only three touchdowns to become Clemson's all-time leading scorer and touchdown maker.

The reason for this offensive improvement is more than just the fine running of the backs. The maturity of Clemson's inexperienced offensive line was a major factor. Jeff Bostic, the dean of the front wall, had one of his best days ever, and was honored as the ACC's Offensive Lineman-of-the-Week. Time and again the Tigers blasted over the right side of the line for consistent yardage. Gary Brown, the freshman right tackle, Mark Thornton, the senior center, Lee Nanney, the sophomore left tackle, senior tight end Mark Clifford, and senior left guard Chris Dolce, all provided cavernous holes for the Tiger backs. It was an effort worth noting, and it may be remembered as the day the young offensive line "came of age."

The defense certainly deserves just as much credit. The Tiger enforcers have been so good this year that Clemson fans have come to expect excellent play out of the defense. So far this season, Clemson opponents have scored only two touchdowns, and those were scored in the waning minutes of play. The Tigers' opposition has averaged only 116 yards per game on the ground and only 243 yards per game overall.

There have been many stars for the Tiger defense, but Jim Stuckey has stood out. The senior All-American candidate has made eight tackles for loss already this year, and has contributed 31 tackles overall. Bubba Brown and Jeff Davis, the linebacking pair, have also made many timely plays and lead the Tigers in tackles with 37 and 35, respectively.

Rex Varn has been recognized as Clemson's top defensive back, but Eddie Geathers has been far from average. The Myrtle Beach, SC resident, who played his high school ball with tailback Lester Brown, was outstanding against Georgia, making an interception, and seven tackles, and the key sack of Jeff Pyburn for a safety.

Clemson's 18-game win streak against Virginia is not a national record. The NCAA mark for consecutive wins over a major opponent is 33, held by Princeton, who defeated Rutgers 33 straight times between 1869 and 1937.

The record for most consecutive wins over a major opponent in an uninterrupted series is 32. Oklahoma defeated Kansas State every year between 1937 and 1968. Alabama currently has the longest steak in the country for wins over an opponent in a series. The Crimson Tide have defeated Mississippi State 21 times in succession since 1958.

Clemson recorded its 400th win in football history when the Tigers downed Georgia on September 22. Clemson's all-time record on the gridiron in 84 years of varsity competition is now 400-315-40, a winning percentage of .551.

When Eddie Geathers sacked Jeff Pyburn for a safety two weeks ago it was the first safety scored by Clemson in 10 years. The last Tiger two-pointer was scored on November 1, 1969 against Maryland, when Terrapin punter Greg Fries had a high pass from center sail over his head and out of the end zone.

Clemson has not had a safety scored against the Tigers since 1975 when Mark Prudhomme of Alabama blocked a Clemson punt through the end zone for a safety.

Jim Lanzendoen's touchdown receptions brought Clemson to an exciting come-from-behind win over Virginia in 1973

There are several football games in my career that are especially memorable; however the 1973 Clemson-Virginia Homecoming game was one game that I will never forget.

Any Homecoming at Clemson is filled with excitement and color, as fraternities and sororities try to outdo each other by building towering floats, putting on great entertainment with the staging of Tigerama. Then, the added splendor of a Tiger football game with the crowning of Miss Homecoming Queen at halftime. It was not only a proud and exciting time for myself, but also for my family who traveled many hours from New Jersey to watch the festivities and game.

The Virginia game was the fifth in what had been a frustrating season so far for the Tigers under first year Coach Red Parker. We had experienced three tough losses to Georgia, Georgia Tech, and Texas A&M. Any one of which we could have won. Our only win was opening day against a stubborn Citadel team. The game against Virginia was a must win if we were to salvage the season.

The Cavaliers came to Clemson with an explosive offense and a big win over a strong West Virginia team the week before. The Tigers also had some advantages entering the game. We had never lost to a Virginia team and were playing in front of fired-up Tiger fans in Death Valley. Finally, as with all Homecoming games, many of my fellow teammates also wanted to give that little extra in front of family and friends.

As the game progressed it was evident Virginia was aware they had never beaten us before and took a 13-0 lead in the first quarter. With only minutes remaining in the second quarter and Virginia leading 20-12 I scored one of two touchdowns that afternoon. On a quick slanting pattern Quarterback Ken Pengitore delivered a perfect strike for a 38-yard touchdown, as the final seconds in the quarter ticked away.

After trailing by as many as 13 points during most of the half it was evident to myself and the rest of the Tigers that we had developed great confidence in our ability to handle adversity and that no matter what obstacles stood in our way, we would somehow overcome them to win the game. Going into the locker room we had cut the Virginia lead to 20-18.

As the second half got under way it seemed Virginia could do no wrong as they recovered a fumbled Tiger punt and went in for a score, putting them ahead 27-18. As the final quarter began, the momentum was beginning to change in our direction. The Tiger defense, led by Middle Guard Willie Anderson and Defensive Backs Jim Ness and Marion Reeves, thwarted several Virginia attacks.

That day Ken Pengitore lived up to his All-ACC honors by completing 15 of 23 passes for 227 yards and three touchdowns. His final two touchdowns came in the pressure-packed fourth quarter. The first went to Wide Receiver David Sasser, and the final touchdown, a perfectly thrown ball to myself. This gave us the lead for the first time in the afternoon 33-27. However, there was still over five minutes remaining in the game and Virginia was able to mount one last drive. On fourth down and eight on the Clemson 17, defensive safety Peanut Martin made a solo tackle on a completed Virginia pass just yards short from a first down which gave us the victory.

For the 1973 Clemson Tigers, that year we were to finish the season with a 5-6 record, and a third place finish in the conference, but I am sure I can speak for all my fellow Tiger teammates that year when I say it was a proud moment in our lives to have played football for such an outstanding college as Clemson University.

Thanks Carolinas

Seventy-six years ago, five Meyers Brothers started a store on Main Street in Greenville, South Carolina that has grown into other areas of the Carolinas.

Today Meyers/Arnold is still growing with the recent addition of the Bon Marche stores of Asheville, North Carolina to its family of fine fashion stores.

Meyers/Arnold stores still cherish the personal approach . . . to fashion and to people. Come join us as we celebrate seventy-six years of caring how you look.

Thank you Carolinas for giving us 76 great years.

The Tiger Marching Band goes patriotic during halftime of today's homecoming game between Clemson University and the University of Virginia. The band will entertain you with some of America's favorite patriotic tunes.

Pre-game festivities will begin as the band enters the field, led by drum major Mark Schwehr, playing "Tiger Rag." Activities continue when Horace Fleming does the honor of dotting the "i" in Tiger. Fleming was the recipient of the 1979-80 Master Teacher Award and is currently President of the Faculty Senate.

The Clemson University Chorus and ROTC Color Guards join the band in "To America the Beautiful" and "The Star Spangled Banner."

THE CLEMSON UNIVERSITY TIGER BAND presents

Hooray America!

By Andy Ronemus

Just before the band forms the tunnel for the Tigers' enthusiastic entrance, Bill Rodgers (Class of 1949) from Dillon will welcome all to this year's homecoming game. Rodgers is currently President of the Alumni Association.

Halftime begins as the band enters the field to John Philip Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever" featuring the piccolo section. The band and the chorus will then combine forces to continue today's presentation. A medley of patriotic tunes including "This Is My Country," "I'm a Yankee Doodle Dandy," "You're a Grand Old Flag" and "God Bless America" highlight this homecoming afternoon.

Homecoming wouldn't be appropriate without the naming of a queen. The queen enters the field on a float built by the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity as the band plays "Just the Way You Are." Christopher McGerr, Edmund Baxley and Robert Brax all helped to design this year's float. The band would like to thank Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity and the other organizations on campus who helped make homecoming such a success.

After the queen has been presented to the crowd, the band and the chorus end today's program with the Alma Mater. This will be a new twist for the crowd as they usually associate the Alma Mater with opening ceremonies and not halftime.

The second half nears as the band leaves the field to the Clemson fight song, "Tiger Rag."

Homecoming has become an expensive event for the organizations that put on the displays and the following businesses have helped to defray some of the costs. Mr. Knickerbocker was the largest contributor with a $150 donation.

The following businesses donated $100: Carolina Beer Co., Carolina National Bank, The Corporation, Clemson Ophthalmology P.A., Dock Side Hardware, First National Bank of Anderson, Fort Hill Federal Savings, J. P. Stevens & Co., Inc., Lynch Drug Company, Inc., "Ole" Norm's, Inc., and Wendy's.

The following businesses contributed $50 or less: Campus Camera, Floyd Coleman Askins and Kellahan, Kay's Shop, Stuckey Epps Foresters, Inc., Wellman Industries, Inc., William E. Guslafson, D.D.S.

The band and the University thank these businesses for their support.

Since its founding in 1893, the story of Clemson University has been one of constant growth in an atmosphere of tradition.

Where 446 students first met for courses in agriculture and engineering, more than 11,000 young people now pursue these two fields as well as architecture, education, forestry, industrial and recreational management, textile science, nursing, liberal arts and the social, biological, physical and mathematical sciences.

In terms of academic excellence, the quality of both students and faculty is high. More than two-thirds of the freshmen who entered Clemson this fall graduated in the top 20 percent of their high school classes. The University last year produced two Fulbright-Hays Scholars and a Truman Scholar, and The Tiger was named one of the best student newspapers in the country.

Several Clemson faculty members are officers in major professional societies or editors of major journals. The campus was also the site last year for national and international meetings of poultry scientists and biomaterials researchers.

Though Tillman Hall still stands as a treasured landmark and a symbol of Clemson's heritage, it no longer stands alone. Today the University campus includes 600 acres of academic buildings, student housing, service facilities and equipment valued at $161 million.

In addition to the nuclear campus, Clemson encompasses more than 30,000 additional acres of experimental farms and woodlands throughout the state. Major renovation of Sarrine Hall and Memorial Stadium will be completed this year, and work will begin on a new $4.7 million Pee Dee Research and Education Center for Agriculture near Florence.

The University enters a new era as Bill Atchley takes the administrative helm as Clemson's ninth president. A strong, friendly leader, Atchley will set the pace for continued growth and leadership. Whether it's academics, research or continuing education for South Carolina's economic development, Clemson University leads the way in service to people.

A CONCRETE COMMITMENT

What better way to state a commitment than to put it in concrete. And that's exactly what our new manufacturing plant in Martin, South Carolina signifies — Sandoz' commitment to provide quality dyes and chemicals to the industries we serve.

This new facility, situated on a 4,600 acre tract, represents an initial multi-million dollar investment. The complex, aside from the production unit containing the latest in dye and chemical manufacturing equipment, also includes a modern technical support center, expansive warehouse, administrative offices, and the necessary peripheral structures for power, maintenance and environmental controls.

The Sandoz Martin Works is now on-stream about the same time other sources have changed in mid-stream. Sandoz is committed to the viability of the dye and chemical consuming industries. This is a concrete commitment.

Clemson's Athletic Administration

During 1978-79, Clemson University enjoyed its greatest all-around athletic year ever. This excellence was documented last August when The Knoxville Journal released its annual nationwide all-sports study. The researchers found that Clemson had the fourth best all-around sports program in the United States. Only UCLA, Southern California, and Arkansas scored more points than the Tigers.

And the man directly responsible for the Tigers' rise and continued success among the major college powers is Athletic Director Bill McLellan.

Only the third man to own the title of Athletic Director over the past 48 years, McLellan assumed his present position February 4, 1971, and since that date has directed the Tigers through their greatest decade ever of national athletic prominence. Four years in a row Clemson has been ranked in the top 25 in the all-sports poll.

In all, 18 of Clemson's 19 varsity sports sent an individual or a team to post-season action.

McLellan's dedication to continued growth and development of Clemson's facilities is another major reason for the Tigers' meteoric rise on the sports scene. During his tenure the Tigers have christened the Frank Johnstone Jervy Athletic Center, possibly the most modern and complete complex under one roof, increased the permanent seating of Clemson Memorial Stadium from 43,451 to 53,306, opened a beautiful swimming facility which will be the site of ACC Swimming Championships over the next two years, and constructed a nine-lane all-weather track where the '78 ACC Meet was held.

While he has erected an athletic powerhouse on the varsity level, McLellan has also developed a solid intramural program for the student body which attracts record participation every year. That's why Bill McLellan is recognized as a total athletic director.

A native of Hamer, SC, the 47-year-old McLellan was a two-time football letterman for the Tigers and a member of Clemson's 1952 Gator Bowl team.

He received his BS degree from Clemson in 1954, and his MS two years later.

After joining the athletic staff in 1958, he spent more than a decade with the Tigers as assistant football coach, Assistant Business Manager, Assistant Athletic Director, and Associate Athletic Director before his appointment to his current position.

But McLellan will be the first man to tell you that many knowledgeable people are needed to run an efficient and successful athletic department. Assistant Athletic Director Bobby Robinson is the catalyst of McLellan's group of responsible aides.

Robinson, now in his 10th year at Clemson and the 1st season as assistant AD, coordinates the business and financial needs for all 19 sports at Clemson. He also serves as the Head Golf Coach.

DO YOU WANT TO FLY?

Face it you've always wanted to fly! Many of us have had the feeling and for some it has never gone away.

If you have that feeling, then you're in luck. Air Force ROTC Flight Instruction Program (FIP) is available to you. It's designed to teach you the basics of flight through flying lessons in small aircraft at a civilian operated flying school.

The program is an EXTRA for cadets who can qualify to become Air Force pilots through Air Force ROTC. Taken during the senior year in college, FIP is the first step for the cadet who is going on to Air Force jet pilot training after graduation.

This is all reserved for the cadet who wants to get his life off the ground with Air Force silver pilot wings. Check it out today.

Danny Ford, Head Football Coach

Nearly 40 years ago Clemson University selected an enthusiastic 31-year-old to lead its football program. At the time, bushy-haired Frank Howard was one of the youngest head coaches in the nation. Now, 40 years later, the Tiger administrators have again selected a youthful mentor to guide the football team.

Danny Ford, who turned 31 last April 2, is the youngest Division I head coach in the NCAA. Despite his youth, he is more than qualified to accept his present duties, for he has been associated with some of the best football programs in the nation.

A 1970 graduate of the University of Alabama, Ford played for three consecutive Bowl teams under the legendary Bear Bryant. The All-Southeastern Conference tackle played in the 1968 Cotton Bowl, the 1968 Gator Bowl and the 1969 Liberty Bowl. An All-SEC Academic selection, he served as team captain of the Crimson Tide in 1969.

After receiving his B.S. degree in industrial arts, Ford remained at Alabama as a graduate assistant for the 1970 and 1971 seasons. After earning a master's degree in special education in 1971, Ford was made a full time assistant for the next two seasons. And the Tide went to four more post-season games while Ford was on Bryant's staff.

Clemson's new mentor then accepted a position of assistant coach on Jimmy Sharpe's staff at Virginia Tech. He remained in Blacksburg for three seasons (1974-75-76), before he was beckoned to Clemson by Charley Pell, who had just been named the Tigers' head coach. Pell and Ford had served together on the VPI staff for two seasons.

When Pell resigned as head football coach at Clemson for a similar position at Florida, the Student Affairs Committee of the Clemson Board of Trustees only considered one name as Pell's successor — Danny Ford. Ford not only had the backing of Pell, but also from members of the Clemson football team. He was then assistant head coach and offensive line coach of the Tigers.

After two meetings between Ford and the committee on the morning of December 5, 1978, it was the unanimous opinion of the committee that Ford should be named Clemson's 21st head coach.

At a press conference on December 10, 1978, Pell relinquished the head coaching duties of the Gator Bowl to Ford. And Clemson's bright new coach responded like a 20-year veteran.

The handsome coach conquered all kinds of adversity in leading the Tigers to a nationally televised 17-15 triumph over perennial national powerhouse Ohio State in the Gator Bowl. Few coaches in NCAA history have made a more celebrated or successful beginning.

Now Ford faces his first full season as a head coach. His 1979 club needs to fill many holes, especially on offense. But solving offensive problems is not new to Ford. He has been given much credit for molding Clemson's offensive scheme, which in the past two seasons, has scored 596 points and set countless offensive records.

The native of Gadsden, AL, is married to the former Deborah Anderson of Attalla, AL, and they are the parents of two daughters, Jennifer, 6, and Ashleigh, 4.

Danny Ford's first Clemson victory as a head coach. Players carry the NCAA's youngest major college head coach from the field after 17-15 Gator Bowl win over Ohio State in 1978.

Use common sense every day. Save a few dollars every month.

With what electricity costs to make and distribute these days, it's just not the dirt-cheap commodity it used to be. And, as a result, your monthly bill is probably higher now.

But remember: the amount of money you're billed each month is determined solely by the amount of electricity you use. And the amount of electricity you use is determined solely by you.

So use it wisely. Turn your thermostat down a few degrees in the winter, and up a few degrees in the summer. Switch off lights you don't need, and appliances you aren't using. Because whenever you waste power, you waste dollars. And it doesn't make sense to do that.

Banks McFadden STILL A WINNER

This time the All-American has a little help from biomaterials research at Clemson.

by Margaret C. Pridgen

In 1939, Clemson's Banks McFadden did an unprecedented thing. The young athlete from Great Falls, S. C., racked up All-America honors in two sports — football and basketball — in the same year.

It was a feat unequalled before or since. And in this age of specialization in collegiate sports, McFadden's mark will likely stand forever.

For the man once called "the most versatile athlete in America" it was a long way from the glory days of the 1930s to the painful realities of the '70s.

Three years ago McFadden was fighting what seemed to be a losing battle against a crippling form of degenerative arthritis in his left hip. At one point he could walk only 50 yards before having to stop, catch his breath, and screw up his courage to take a few more painful steps.

"It felt just like somebody was sticking an ice pick in there, that's the way I described it to the doctor," McFadden says.

The padding in his ball-and-socket hip joint had worn away. The "ice pick" he felt was the painful grinding of bone on bone deep inside the joint.

Two years ago, in April 1977, surgeons at the Medical University of South Carolina hospital in Charleston replaced his crippled left hip joint with an artificial one made of stainless steel and plastic.

Although procedures like this are never 100 percent successful for every patient — McFadden has since developed a hairline crack in the cement that holds the ball part of his ball-and-socket joint in place — he says he now feels "10 million times better than I did before the operation."

McFadden is just one of an estimated 100,000 people each year who have artificial hip implants, according to Frank Cooke, who heads Clemson's internationally-recognized biomaterials engineering program and directs research on artificial hips at Clemson under a grant from the National Institutes of Health.

Using a pony and other animal models, the researchers make minor changes in surgical techniques and measure the strain on the joint and bone.

"We're trying to improve on a situation that is already good," Cooke says of his research.

"The goal of medicine is often just to improve, not cure," he says, adding that for thousands of people the artificial hip has meant "freedom from pain and improved movement for long periods of time."

For Banks McFadden, it meant the chance to jitter-bug once again.

New openings from Honda.

HONDA PRELUDE

HONDA ACCORD®
4-DOOR SEDAN

At Honda we have never believed in making lots of different types of cars. But 1979 is a different kind of year for Honda. We've introduced two new cars. The Accord 4-Door Sedan and the Honda Prelude. You might say we've opened things up a bit. Literally.

Our new Prelude boasts a power-operated, tinted glass moonroof as standard equipment. The moonroof comes with a manual sunshade, like the window shade on a jetliner.

Not only does our new Accord sedan have four doors, it has a nice, big trunk as well. It also has a lever that allows you to release the lid from the driver's seat. So if you're thinking about buying a new car, take a close look at our new Hondas. And open the door to simplicity.

HONDA

We make it simple.

REX VARN— Clemson's Durable Defender

by Tim Bourret

Varn as a freshman when he came to Clemson as a high school quarterback.

Brian Piccolo, a former Wake Forest halfback who later played professionally with the Chicago Bears, is a household name because of his perseverance and success on the football field despite the presence of terminal cancer throughout his body. Every year the ACC and the Greenville, SC touchdown club give the Brian Piccolo Award to a conference player who has shown an ability to play with pain and instill motivation in his teammates. The 1978 recipient, and the odds on favorite for the 1979 award is Clemson defensive back Rex Varn.

The Martinsville, VA native has been a candidate for the honor ever since he came to Clemson because his medical history in trainer Fred Hoover's file is more than a few pages long. In his very first week of practice in the fall of 1976 Varn sustained a shoulder separation. In 1977, after being named ACC defensive back of the week for his performance against Maryland, he was rushed to the hospital with an emergency appendectomy. Last season, he missed the first game with another shoulder separation, and in one of the first workouts of 1979 he fractured a wrist, an injury that will force him to wear a cast most of this season. That is enough to make a guy take up golf and forget about all that hitting.

But not Rex Varn, a player with an abundance of intestinal fortitude. The cornerback has missed only three games in four years due to injury (Georgia and Georgia Tech in 1977 and The Citadel in 1978). Yes, bionic Rex missed only two games after his appendectomy in 1977 and played all last season with a separated shoulder that "would pop out now and then."

"I guess I have a fairly high pain tolerance. I've been that way since I was a kid," said Varn who is a solid choice for All-ACC honors this year. "You can't sit out games with little pains because there are just not that many games in your college football career. It is a special time of your life and I don't want to miss any of them."

Coach Ford has often said that Rex's dedicated attitude has done as much for the team as his interceptions. "In the past four years Rex Varn has had all kinds of reasons to get discouraged. He has had a major injury every year at Clemson, but has always been ready. He sets an example for the other players by playing with pain. The other players see how tough he is and it motivates them to do the same."

Facing adversity, whether it be playing with pain or playing against and stopping a player with more ability, has been Varn's trademark since coming to Clemson.

Rex had to face a challenge as soon as he got to Clemson. "I recruited him to Virginia Tech to play quarterback when he was at Martinsville High School. He came to Clemson and the first thing they told him was that he was going to play defensive back, a position he hadn't played since the ninth grade. Then, in the fourth game of the season, injuries to the defensive backfield forced him to play nearly the entire game against Tennessee. And who do you think he had to guard — Larry Seivers, a two-time All-American. But he sucked it up and did a good job."

Varn must have impressed many people because he was cited by Clemson Coach Red Parker in some post-game statements. "Rex has been a real good surprise for us."

said Clemson's head coach during the mid-seventies. "You don't like to throw a freshman into the type of situation that we have with Rex but he has done an outstanding job. A lesser man would have died out there trying to cover Seivers but he handled every situation very well. He has football savvy."

Parker certainly proved to be a prophet because Varn is one of the more intelligent players on the Tiger team. Just ask Danny Ford. "One of the keys to Rex's success is that he is coachable. He is as smart as Steve Fuller when it comes to football sense. You only have to tell him something one time and he doesn't forget it. He always knows his right assignment and helps the other players when they forget theirs."

But Varn is noted for more than his intelligence. Although opponents have doubted his speed and overall ability, he certainly has the on-field accomplishments of an all-star. Before the start of his senior year, Varn already owned the Clemson record for interception return yardage in a career and ranked among the all-time leaders in number of thefts.

"When you first look at Rex you say he doesn't have enough strength or speed to stay with some people," said Ford. "Opponents have tried to throw on him for three years and every time Rex comes up with the big play. I hope our opponents continue this strategy, because Clemson football will be a lot better off."

"One of the keys to Rex's success is that he is coachable. He is as smart as Steve Fuller when it comes to football sense. You only have to tell him something one time and he doesn't forget it." — Danny Ford

THE FIRST CHEVY OF THE '80s. CITATION. OUR MOST SUCCESSFUL NEW CAR EVER.

Ever since its introduction, people have been flooding Chevy showrooms across the country to see the 1980 Chevy Citation. And according to Retail Delivery Reports, 33,765 units were sold in its first three weeks, more than any new entry Chevrolet has ever introduced.

MID-SIZE ROOM FOR 5.

Citation's engine is mounted sideways, so the passenger compartment can be bigger. In fact, in EPA interior dimensions, Citation is classified as a mid-size car. With the back seat folded down there's room enough for two adults in front and 30 bags of groceries in back.

0 TO 50 IN 9 SECONDS FLAT WITH THE AVAILABLE V6.

In engineering tests, Citation goes from 0 to 50 in 9 seconds flat. That's with available 2.8 Liter V6 engine and automatic transmission. California figures not available. (Citation is equipped with GM-built engines produced by various divisions. See your dealer for details.)

EASY ON GAS. 24 EPA ESTIMATED MPG. 38 HIGHWAY ESTIMATE.

That's with Citation's standard 2.5 Liter 4-cylinder engine and manual transmission. (Manual transmission currently not available in California. Calif. estimates lower.)

Citation's standard 4-speed transmission is made to conserve gas. It's an overdrive. And at cruising speeds the 4th gear lets the engine run slower than with a conventional transmission, helping to get impressive fuel economy.

IMPRESSIVE LONG-RANGE CRUISING ESTIMATES, TOO.

And Citation's long-range cruising estimates are just as impressive. [336] miles based on EPA estimated MPG (city) mileage figures, and 532 miles based on estimated highway MPG. Range figures obtained by multiplying Citation's 14-gallon fuel tank capacity rating by the EPA mileage estimates.

REMEMBER: Compare the circled estimated MPG to the estimated MPG of other cars. You may get different mileage and range depending on your speed, trip length and weather. Your actual city mileage and range will be less in heavy city traffic. Your actual mileage will probably be less than the highway estimate.

YOU'VE GOT TO DRIVE IT TO BELIEVE IT.

When you drive Citation you'll see what all the excitement is about. The way it feels. The way it maneuvers. The way it rides. And Citation's front wheel drive puts approximately 65% of its weight over the "driving wheels" to give you impressive traction on wet or snowy roads.

IT'S A WHOLE NEW KIND OF COMPACT CAR.

There's still a lot about Citation that we haven't mentioned. Like slip stream design to cut down on wind resistance and wind noise. The hidden cargo area in all hatchback models, so what's inside is protected from view. A dual diagonal braking system. And much, much more. That's why we encourage you to see your Chevy dealer and test drive the 1980 Chevy Citation today. This could be the car you've had in mind.

Stars in Other Sports

Neil Simons

(129) and is closing in on at least a half dozen other career marks. He's struck out only once in every 16.6 at bats, but has walked once every 4.5 at bats. This year against N. C. State he hit three home runs and drove in 10 runs in one game.

NEIL SIMONS, Clemson: Simons can be considered just a little above the average cut among college baseball players. He's been on the All-ACC team three straight years and should be the leader on Coach Bill Wilhelm's 1980 team. He has a career batting average of .343, after hitting .355 in 1979 and needs one more hit to reach 200, a plateau only one other Clemson player has reached. He already has the season school record in hits (74) and singles (59), has the career record in walks according to the Michelob-Light Collegiate Tennis rankings. Armand has helped the young Deacon tennis squad both on and off the court. He has proven to be a leader to many of the younger players. Next year he will continue to lead them, letting his booming serve and devastating backhand do his talking for him.

ARMAND MOLINO, Wake Forest: For the past three seasons Armand Molino's tennis career has been overshadowed by those of other Deacon athletes. He has now won 47 matches against 17 losses as he has established himself as a reckoning force in Atlantic Coast Conference tennis. Molino finished his junior season with an 18-3 record although he finished a disappointing third in the ACC tournament. His performance throughout the year earned him a No. 36 ranking in the nation ac-

C. D. Mock

(leading the Tar Heels to the team title for the first time in history), copped most valuable wrestler honors at the conference meet, finished third at the NCAA Tournament and garnered All-America accolades. Mock, who was voted Carolina's most valuable wrestler by his teammates, ranks among the nation's top performers in the 126-pound weight class. Barring injury, the talented Tar Heel figures to be a prime contender for first-place prizes at both the 1980 ACC Tournament and 1980 NCAA Championships.

C. D. MOCK, North Carolina: North Carolina's C. D. Mock, the first Tar Heel wrestler to claim All-America status, has a tremendous challenge awaiting him during the 1979-80 season. The Holland, Pa., junior would like nothing better than to add to his ever-growing list of accomplishments and honors. Trying to surpass last year's achievements will be no easy task. During his sophomore season, the 126-pounder posted an impressive 15-0 dual match ledger, won his second consecutive ACC crown time scoring list and third in assists. The Terps have won four consecutive ACC Lacrosse Championships and are counting on Boneillo to lead them to their ninth consecutive appearance in the NCAA Championship Tournament in 1980. Boneillo could break a pair of Ray Altman's career records that have held up for 17 years without scoring a goal, as 27 assists would give him the record for total points and assists.

BOB BONEILLO, Maryland: Maryland's Bob Boneillo, the ACC Lacrosse Player-of-the-Year was also awarded the Jack Turnbull Memorial Award as the nation's Outstanding Attackman. The Terp senior from Levittown, N.Y., has led Maryland scorers the past two years and has been on the All-American lists for three years. He scored 17 goals with 27 assists as a freshman, followed that with 21 goals and 45 assists and this past spring added 31 goals and 48 as-weaves through defenders at will, until he executes a perfect pass. This fall Bauza will be moved to midfield where he can traverse more territory; look for the Cavs to improve their 9-2-2 record, and look for Jose Bauza to become Virginia's first NASL professional.

JOSE BAUZA, Virginia: Jose Bauza does not score a lot of goals or make spectacular plays to win soccer games. Instead, to beat an opponent, he relies on his ability to dribble the ball or make an assist. Last season he was named Virginia's first soccer All-American. Playing attack for the Cavaliers, Bauza has booted 19 goals and 11 assists over three seasons, but his real value to the team transcends statistics. He controls the ball and sets the tempo for the Wahoos. Bauza stops, accelerates, and 70), finishing four shots ahead of the field. He also won the Cypress Gardens Invitational by six shots over a strong contingent of collegiate golfers. In the Southern Amateur, he finished third and was fourth in the Palmetto Classic. A senior this year, Smith is counted on to lead the Wolfpack to perhaps its finest season ever.

Todd Smith

TODD SMITH, N. C. State: At a mere 5-foot-8, 135 pounds, Todd looks more like an autograph seeker than a powerful-hitting golfer. But, the Charlotte youngster displayed his might on the links last spring by earning All-America honors, only the second Wolfpacker to gain such recognition. His ranking among the nation's finest was a direct result of his superb play throughout the season. He captured the prestigious Atlantic Coast Conference individual crown with a two-over par 212 (72-70-

Richard Murray

RICHARD MURRAY, Duke: One of the fastest growing sports in the world is soccer and Duke University is proud to have one of the top soccer players in the Atlantic Coast Conference in Richard Murray. Murray, a senior from Jamaica has been a first team All-ACC selection for three years, and an All-South performer for two years. This past season he led the Blue Devils in goals with 13 and in points with 30. In the first five games of the 1978 season, Murray scored 6 goals to lead the Blue Devils to a 5-1 start on the season.

Mark Clifford

Mark Clifford is proof that hard work can be rewarding. The senior from Miami, FL had been a third string tight end at best his first three years at Clemson. But, 1979 is a new season and for Mark it has been very rewarding. The former Coral Gables High School star has been Clemson's starting tight end all year, and he has made a solid contribution in each game.

Mark Clifford

Although he has not caught a pass in the first three games he has done a fine job as a blocker. He was one of the main reasons Clemson gained 306 yards on the ground against Georgia.

Football is a major part of his family's life. Clifford is one of six brothers that have played college football. His brother Chris lettered for the Tigers in 1975, Steve and Rick played for The Citadel, while John and Thom played at Florida.

Chip Pruett

Clemson is very deep at the middle guard spot and the presence of Chip Pruett is one of the reasons. He and Charlie Bauman have combined with defensive tackles Steve Durham and Jim Stuckey to give Clemson one of if not the best defensive lines in the South.

Pruett has moved around the defensive front during his career. He began his years at Clemson as a nose guard, but quickly switched to defensive tackle. He served as Jim Stuckey's backup last season, as he appeared in seven games. He had one sack in 1978 and caused a fumble against Duke.

Chip Pruett

This year he has done a fine job, making seven tackles as an often-used replacement for Bauman. Chip, who played for his father at Glenn High School in St. Simon's Island, GA, is an administrative management major.

Scott Jackson

Scott Jackson has been a Clemson follower for years because his father, Scott Jackson, played football for the Tigers between 1950-54. The second generation linebacker is a valuable member of Clemson's special teams and a third-team linebacker.

Scott Jackson

Jackson played his high school ball at nearby Lawrence Manning Academy in Manning, SC. He played football for three seasons under Dick Silvernail and was an all-conference choice. The fine all-around athlete was most valuable player of the football, basketball and baseball teams during his athletic career. In all, he earned 11 varsity letters.

Matt Smith

If Matt Smith were as good on the playing field as he is in the classroom he would be a first-team All-American. The backup linebacker had a perfect 4.0 grade-point average in the first semester last year and sports a career grade point near that perfect figure. Last year, his accomplishments on the field and off the field were rewarded with selection to the ACC Academic Team.

In 1978 and this season he has served as the second-team replacement for Bubba Brown. In this reserve role he made 18 tackles in 1978, four of which came against Villanova. He has three tackles so far this year and has done an outstanding job on the specialty teams.

The former Independence High School star from Charlotte, NC had his biggest moment against N. C. State last year when he made a key tackle for loss in the crucial ACC game.

Matt has not padded his grade point with easy courses. He is an honors student studying civil engineering, one of the toughest courses at Clemson.

THE HILL —Clemson's Original Tradition

by Jeff Rhodes

When the Clemson Tigers come running down the hill today at one o'clock, it will mark the 146th time that a Clemson football game has been started in this traditional way. The tradition of running down the hill before the start of a game is almost as old as Tiger football itself.

"We've been running down the hill as long as we've been playing in Memorial Stadium," said the patriarch of Clemson football, Frank Howard. "It started out of necessity. We would dress in Fike Field House, because we didn't have quite as good facilities back then as we have today, and running down the hill was the quickest way to get to the field.

"The first time we ran down the hill was in 1942. We finished hanging the gates at one o'clock and played at two," Howard added with a chuckle.

"It makes you feel awful good, standing on that hill and hearing 'Tiger Rag' and seeing all that orange. If you can't get excited about playing a football game when you hear and see all of that, you ought not be playing for Clemson University." — Danny Ford

"The student body used to line up from both sides of the gate all the way down to the field to wish the players good luck. I guess the band wanted to be part of the students, so they started lining up in two lines and let the players run between them once they got on the field, and that became part of the tradition," the Bashful Baron of Barlow Bend noted.

The purple and orange carpet that the players run on has a story of its own. In December 1950, when the Tigers were getting ready to play Miami (Florida) in the 1951 Orange Bowl, Wonder Weave Mills volunteered to make a carpet to put in front of the Tigers' bench.

Wonder Weave took the carpet to Miami, and they brought it back after the game. Coach Howard had no other place to put it, so he decided to let the players run down the hill on game days with carpet under their feet. Coach Howard also said, "There have been a lot of players trip on the rug, but no one has ever gotten hurt." The carpet the Tigers will run on today is not the original 1951 Orange Bowl rug.

In 1966, another feature was added to the tradition of running down the hill — rubbing Howard's Rock for luck. In the summer of 1965, Sam Jones, Clemson '19, made a trip to Death Valley, CA and brought back a suitable souvenir for Coach Howard. This souvenir was a 10-pound piece of Death Valley granite. After sitting in Howard's office for nearly a year, Gene Willimon, then IPTAY secretary, was told "to do something with the slab." In September, 1966, Howard's Rock was placed on its concrete pedestal under the scoreboard.

Before the season opener against Virginia, Coach Howard told his players that rubbing the rock would give them "supernatural powers." It must have, because the Tigers beat the Cavaliers 40-35 in a real barnburner. Rubbing the rock has been a part of Clemson football ever since.

The tradition of running down the hill was stopped by Hootie Ingram when he was head coach from 1970-72. The only time the hill was used during this time was the 1972 South Carolina game, a 7-6 Tiger victory.

When Red Parker arrived in Tigertown in 1973, he immediately restarted the tradition. He said, "Clemson is a tradition-minded school. Traditions are important to fans and they are important to me. So, I decided to restart the tradition."

The tradition of running down the hill means many things to many people. Verne Lundquist, ABC commentator who covered the Clemson-Maryland game, asked "Do they still come down the hill? Great, that's what college football is about."

Charley Pell said, "I could not imagine what it would be like to play a game in Death Valley without running down the hill first."

Danny Ford says, "It makes you feel awful good, standing on that hill and hearing 'Tiger Rag' and seeing all that orange. If you can't get excited about playing a football game when you hear and see all of that, you ought not be playing for Clemson University."

ORDER OF THE SILVER TIGER

CLEMSON UNIVERSITY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

ORDER OF THE SILVER TIGER

ROBERT C. EDWARDS '33

Charter Member

ALUMNI

The tiger, a long-time symbol of strength and aggressiveness for Clemson University, now assumes another prestigious role. The Order of the Silver Tiger is a new giving level recognizing alumni, parents, friends, faculty and staff who have given a minimum of $500 annually to the Clemson University Annual Fund.

Gifts to Clemson University enable deserving students to receive scholarships, add volumes to the Robert Muldrow Cooper Library, bring professors of distinction from other colleges and universities to campus for varying periods to share their expertise, and finance alumni professorships awarded to outstanding faculty members. These are just a few of the ways your gifts will be used to help secure Clemson University's future.

Your gift not only benefits the University, but also entitles you to become a charter member of the Order of the Silver Tiger, a new recognition program for your giving level.

As a Silver Tiger you will be recognized in the Clemson Honor Roll; honored at a special reception during the year and receive this distinctive Silver Tiger desk piece sculptured by Detter Hefner.

Through the Order of the Silver Tiger we can say "Thanks" for all you do for Clemson University.

Clemson and Stevens... working together to make better fabrics for us all.

With the valuable help of Clemson alumni, students and faculty, J. P. Stevens supplies much of the world's quality fabric needs for women's, men's and children's apparel, home furnishings and industry. Tiger alumni, in various management roles, help keep Stevens a recognized leader in the international market place. Clemson students help Stevens plants near the campus maintain high levels of productivity. Stevens and the textile industry as a whole benefit each year from the research and recommendations of Clemson faculty and graduate students.

Clemson and Stevens . . . helping to make better fabrics for us all.

Special Recognition

During the fiscal year 1978-79, Clemson's IPTAY Club experienced its finest year. For the fifteenth consecutive year contributions exceeded those of the previous twelve month period. IPTAY President Reeves Gressette and his staff, along with the more than 500 IPTAY Representatives, led the organization to a record setting year. An increase of almost thirty-eight percent above last year's contributions was realized and the organization achieved one hundred and fifty-six percent of its projected goal.

No other woodstove can pass this Ol' Hickory checklist.

- ✓ Heavy-duty firebox of 1/4" welded steel. No thin spots, no hairline cracks.
- ✓ Solid, one-piece, no-warp door of 5/8" cast iron.
- ✓ "Wraparound" heating chamber—top, bottom and sides—with 4 separate forced-air heat outlets.
- ✓ Thermostat-controlled electric fan system.
- ✓ High-efficiency burning. More than 90% of the firewood's heat energy is used to warm your house.
- ✓ Unattended heating time as long as 12 hours.
- ✓ Limited warranty for the LIFETIME of the original owner.

Only OL' HICKORY checks out all the way. And the fireplace model is easily convertible to a free-standing heating stove. One more thing—you'll like OL' HICKORY's square-deal prices.

P.S. TO DEALERS: OL' HICKORY is the hot one for 1979-80. Phone us and get the facts.

Every Tiger Needs a Place to Call His Own

You or your tiger can use this custom crofted redwood wall plaque to decorate the wall of an office, den or other special place. Each plaque is approximately 7 1/2" x 26" wide x 3/4" deep and is crafted from the finest heart redwood, sandblasted, stained and painted by the same craftsman that daily make some of the most exciting new environmental signage on the eastern seaboard.

Each plaque has a stained walnut background with border and letters in beige with our famous tigerpaw in Clemson orange.

These plaques make excellent gifts for special days or as a pleasant surprise for any Clemson fan.

Because these plaques are handcrafted after we receive your order, please allow 2-3 weeks for delivery.

Interior and Exterior signs custom designed for your special needs or hobbies. Personalized tiger head graphic desk name plate. Write information concerning our custom wood work.

Please send me _____ Clemson "Tiger's Den" wall plaque(s). I have enclosed my check or money order for $37.50 (plus $1.00 postage and handling and 4% S.C. Sales Tax) for each plaque.

IN TOTAL CAPABILITY

ELECTRICAL - MECHANICAL - CIVIL - CONTRACT MAINTENANCE

This is the world's largest terephthalic acid complex . . . Amoco Chemical Corporation's one billion pounds per year TPA facility, near Charleston, South Carolina. The site, adjacent to deep water, includes ship dock access by ocean-going tankers.

Yeargin Construction built this major new chemical complex. Our thousands of craftsmen provided comprehensive general contractor services in ELECTRICAL, MECHANICAL, and CIVIL project requirements . . . supervision and support services . . . all with our own forces.

We recognize that every industry's problems are unique. So are Yeargin's tailored solutions. As projects grow in size and complexity, effective construction handling becomes more critical. Our FULL SERVICE is an invaluable tool in controlling project costs and quality . . . and, after project start-up and occupancy . . . Yeargin CONTRACT MAINTENANCE service will care for your investment over the years.

You see complete "Grass Roots" production facilities, major expansions to existing manufacturing plants, institutional and commercial buildings . . . built by Yeargin . . . all over the Sun Belt.

As you plan your facilities growth . . . a new plant, or an addition . . . call Yeargin! Whether it's 1, 100, or thousands of craftsmen you need, we have the strength, the resources, the technical back-up, the commitment to quality, and P-R-I-D-E experience to do your job well in these, and other industries . . .

• chemicals • pulp & paper • textiles • synthetic fibers • power generation . . .
(field erected steam generators & precipitators) • aluminum reduction • steel
• foundaries • metal fabrication • heavy assembly • tire & rubber • glass
• petro-chemical • plastics • film • machine tools • nuclear products
